

VOL. LI. RENO. WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA, FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 27, 1899. NO. 60.

LET THE FACTS BE KNOWN

The work of the committee appointed to investigate the charge of bribery against Assemblyman Leidy will be a good deal like examining the lock of a stable door after the horse is stolen, still it is due to the people that they should know everything connected with the corruption practiced in the late Senatorial contest. A joint committee of the Senate and Assembly should be appointed with full power to subpoena witnesses, and the adoption of all other means necessary to obtain full information concerning the means adopted to secure votes for the candidates who were voted for in the two branches of the legislature. This is at least due to the voters whose decision was reversed by the treachery of a few members who are held responsible for the result. The people have a right to know why a State Senator who helped to construct a party platform unequivocally opposed to the man for whom he voted, and whom he proclaimed himself in opposition to up to the moment he cast his vote, at the twelfth hour gave the lie to his former declarations and unblushingly called the name of the candidate against whom he was pledged by his own voluntary promise as well as the party platform by which he professed to be bound. The people have a right to know why an Assemblyman who in Reno during the session of the Silver Party State Convention denounced W. M. Stewart as the corrupt manipulator of that body, and publicly declared his intentions of becoming a candidate for the Legislature in his county for the express purpose of voting against him, and having been elected, deceived his supporters by voting for the man he had so bitterly denounced. The people have a right to know what occurred between the night of January 21st and the forenoon of January 24th to change this same Assemblyman, who on the former date, in the presence of twenty persons in Reno, declared that he would never under any circumstances vote for Stewart, and at the same time voluntarily pledging himself to the support of Francis G. Newlands, and on the latter date placed in nomination and voted for the man whom he had a hundred times denounced as a creature of canine maternity, with such other choice expressions as are generally utilized by students of that style of nomenclature peculiar to our wild and woolly west.

The people are somewhat curious to know the particulars of the mysterious disappearance of Gillespie, the Republican Assemblyman from Storey. His absence was needed to reduce the Assembly vote so as to give Stewart a majority of one in that body. If he had been present there would have been a tie which would have necessitated a ballot in joint convention, a thing of all others which Stewart wished to avoid, for he well knew that on a second ballot he would lose a number of votes of unwilling Silver Party men, who would have considered their implied convention obligations fulfilled by a single vote in his favor. While it doesn't particularly matter whether the fellow is in hades, Texas or Klondike, still the people are entitled to the gratification of their curiosity as to his whereabouts, and the cost of his transportation.

In regard to the Leidy matter, the facts are pretty well known and there are likely to be no new or startling developments for none are needed to insure a public verdict, whatever may be the action of the investigating committee. In short the people, having been ennobled and betrayed, are entitled to such little satisfaction and comfort as can be afforded by a knowledge of how it was done. It is therefore to be hoped that such little solace will be vouchsafed in charity to them by their humane masters in the legislative halls at Carson.

NOT FEASIBLE.

The Virginia Chronicle recommends an appropriation by the Legislature for the establishment of public reduction works in the principal mining districts of the State, where owners of small mines could have their ores worked at a cost that would pay a small interest for the plant. While the proposition looks well enough in print, it is more than doubtful whether it would work satisfactorily, either to the miner or the people generally of the State. In the first place it would be governmental competition to private enterprise, which in itself would be an objectionable feature. Besides that, there are now scores of reduction works lying idle in different parts of the State, which would be started up if sufficient ore could be secured to run them at sufficient profit to pay reasonable interest on the cost of the plants. But perhaps the greatest objection is, that such public works would be turned into political bucket shops, the same as all of the other public institutions in the State, and would be run in the interest of the party in power instead of the miners who have ores to be reduced. The trouble in Nevada is, not a lack of reduction facilities but scarcity of the material to keep them going. In our opinion such an appropriation would be worse than throwing the money away for the cost of the plant would be only the beginning of the outlay that would be required to keep the works running, or caring for them when they remain idle—which would probably be the greater portion of the time.

Assembly Bill No. 2

The Assembly bill that is represented by the number above given has been a subject of discussion by Reno men for some days. The feeling and opinion of Reno people so far as learned is against the bill.

Its provisions are objectionable from more than one point of view. It takes away responsibility from the attending physician; he is made a visitor at the hospital; his duties begin and end with his daily routine visits required by the law, or with such visits as in his judgment may be necessary for the proper care of the patients. It is made the duty of the superintendent to attend to the business details of the hospital, and he is not subject in any manner to the attending physician, nor is the physician subject in any particular to the superintendent, which creates a monster with two heads and one body; there is no union of the heads. Each head has its office and duty in connection with the body, and one is independent in office and in duty to the other, which independence without doubt will beget divergent action and conflict, and in case of disagreement the one will blame the other, and the service will suffer, resulting to the injury of the institution and possible neglect of the poor unfortunate inmates who are inmates of the asylum.

The Sure La Grippe Cure.

There is no use suffering from this dreadful malady, if you will only get the right remedy. You are having pain all through your body, your liver is out of order, have no appetite, no life or ambition, have a bad cold, in fact are completely used up. Electric Bitters is the only remedy that will give you prompt and sure relief. They act directly upon your Liver, Stomach, and Kidneys, tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new being. They are guaranteed to cure or price refunded. For sale at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store, only 50 cents a bottle.

The First Game of the Season.

A match game of baseball between the Reno Wheelmen and the State University will be played at the University athletic grounds next Saturday. As both the Wheelmen and "Varsity nines" are practicing daily in preparation for the event, the people of Reno may look forward to a good exhibition of "the only American game."

Dr. Stubbs' Health.

Although Dr. Stubbs has not yet fully recovered his health, he has improved greatly during his sojourn at Santa Ysabel. In a letter received by Dr. Miller yesterday he states that he will start for Reno in time to arrive here Sunday morning, providing his physicians do not forbid his taking the journey.

Shooting Dreams.

A writer speaks of the persistent peculiarity in his dreams of not being able, after game was sighted, to fire the gun, and has often wondered if this happens with other dreamers. My own experience coincides with his, and I think may be too general to be peculiar.

An older brother, however, once had a different experience. The gun of our earlier boyhood days was an old flint-lock queen's arm that had the power to shoot off a tree top and an almost equal reverse force. It was the idol as well as the terror of our young lives, and was carried over the New Hampshire hills with heroic feelings.

One night, in the stillness of the later hours, there was a tremendous jar in our sleeping room, as if a heavy body had been violently thrown down. Paterfamilias, aroused by the shock, came rushing in just as my brother, in a semiconscious condition, was slowly gathering himself up from the floor to regain his place in bed, from which he had dropped a moment before. Father exclaimed, "Bill, what is the matter?" to which Bill drowsily replied, "I dreamed I fired the old gun and it kicked me out of bed." It was emphatic enough to him to be peculiar.—Forest and Stream.

The Ambition to Be "Literary."

The reading club on the whole has been a blessing as an educational influence, but there are cases where light drafts from the literary spring have not been beneficial. It must be owned that an ambition to become literary, when aroused in a shallow mind, often has the effect of unfitting it for probabilities of achievement, while failing to refit it for possibilities. To the superficial woman whose desire is to get into the trend of the fashion the "paper" of the literary club becomes a delusion and a snare. It tempts to mental masquerading and plagiarism and in many cases has robbed women of needed rest and of a naturalness that is part of their charm. Having no very original thoughts of a given subject and no well defined idea of its proper treatment, she takes the reference books, not as suggestive helps, but in the way of completion, and so unconsciously often becomes a cheat and subjects herself to intellectual demoralization.—Mary R. Baldwin in Woman's Home Companion.

The Congregation Smiled.

Two country clergymen had agreed to exchange pulpits on a certain date. One of them made the following solemn announcement to his congregation on the Sabbath previous to the event: "My dear brethren and sisters, I have the pleasure of stating that on next Sunday morning the Rev. Zachariah B. Day will preach for you. Let us now sing two verses of hymn No. 489, 'That Awful Day Will Surely Come.'"

And it took him some time to discover why the congregation smiled.—Synagogue Standard.

Quieting Her Doubts.

A lady selecting a hat at a milliner's asked cautiously, "Is there anything about these feathers that might bring me into trouble with the Audubon society?" "Oh, no, madam," said the milliner, who was from London. "These feathers, madam, are the feathers of a bowl, and the bowl, you know, madam, is more of a cat than a bird."

A Famous Head Master.

Of Keato, the most famous of all story head masters, the author has much to say. Innumerable stories have been told of his fiery temper, his peculiar appearance and his strong faith in the efficacy of a birch rod, many of them purely apocryphal.

All the world knows Kinglake's picturesque description of the little man who wore "a fancy dress partly resembling the costume of Napoleon and partly that of a widow woman" and has heard Keato's famous comment on the beatitude: "Blessed are the pure in heart." Mind that. It's your duty to be pure in heart. If you are not pure in heart, I'll flog you!" But it would be a great mistake to regard Keato as merely an irascible pedagogue of eccentric speech and manners.

He did believe in flogging, and when the occasion arose flogged wholesale—witness the famous instance when he mistook his lists and flogged all the candidates for confirmation; also he could not be induced to trust his boys, but for all that he was a man of generous temper and a noble nature, as well as of indomitable courage, and deserved well of a school which has certainly always kept his memory green.—London Spectator.

Meant Round Trips, Perhaps.

The Bookman has heard of a Scotch professor who had been advocating the advantages of athletic exercise. "The Roman youths," he cried, "used to swim three times across the Tiber before breakfast."

The Scotch professor, noticing one of his auditors grinning, exclaimed: "Mr. McAlister, why do you smile? We shall be glad to share your amusement." The canny Scot replied, "I was just thinking, sir, that the Roman youths must have left their clothes on the wrong bank at the end of their swim."

Too Good a Balanceer.

"Why don't you marry him?" they asked of the beautiful girl. "I do not love him," she replied. "Tut, tut," they said. "Don't be old fashioned. He is worth a million and is already on the brink of the grave." "On the brink, yes," she answered bitterly, "but I am told that he has had experience as an equilibrist. Who knows how long he may be able to stay there?"—Pittsburg Chronicle.

Hopeful.

Granger—How are you getting along at your house? Timson—Pretty well, on the whole. We are nearly out of everything but debt, and in time, if things go on as they have been going, we ought to be out of that.—Boston Transcript.

STATE LEGISLATURE THE NINETEENTH SESSION. Eleventh Day—Traitor Gillespie Returns and is Received With Open Arms.

CARSON CITY, Jan. 26, 1899.
Stewart received his certificate of election yesterday as U. S. Senator from Nevada for the ensuing six years term. Senator and Mrs. Stewart gave a reception at their residence next Saturday evening to "the members of the Legislature and friends."

Assemblyman McGowan, who was elected as an anti-Stewart man, yet culminated in nominating Stewart and making a long speech in his favor, has appropriately introduced a bill to repeal the purity of elections law.

The committee of investigation in the case of Assemblyman Leidy of Esmeralda, to-day made a majority report, which was promptly adopted, exonerating Leidy (hadn't taken a thing).

The committee investigating absentee Gillespie's case has been squelched, Gillespie appearing in his seat this afternoon, with no questions asked.

Senator Livingston gave notice that he would at some future time introduce a bill "to regulate publishers and owners of newspapers and newspaper plants and resident correspondents in the State of Nevada." This looks as though the ambitious Ormsby Senator aspires to be the chief regulator of the universe. He would attempt something that no man on earth ever succeeded in doing or ever can. Don Quixote attempted something of the kind when he made his famous charge upon the windmills, and "Liv." will get as disastrously knocked out and floored. But this is his maiden effort in the Senatorial line.

No great amount of important legislation was done in either house to-day, and not much may be looked for until next week.

SENATE.
Senate concurrent resolution No. 4, by Flanagan:

"Resolved, By the Senate, the Assembly concurring, that our Senators in Congress are hereby instructed to vote for and in every honorable manner support the ratification of the treaty of peace between the United States and Spain, recently concluded by the joint commission representing said powers, and to vote against any amendment to the same."

"Resolved, That our said Senators are hereby instructed to vote for and to support appropriate legislation in Congress which will insure the retention by the United States of all territory in the Pacific Ocean occupied by the military and naval forces of the United States during the late war with Spain, and including the entire group of Philippine islands, pending the establishment therein by the United States of substantial and orderly government, and which will not preclude the United States from permanently retaining said territory and islands when such government is established, should it then be deemed advisable so to do."

"Resolved, That an authenticated copy of these resolutions be immediately transmitted to each of our Senators in Congress."

Referred to Committee on Federal Relations.

Mr. Livingston gave notice that he would at some future day introduce a bill to regulate publishers and owners of newspaper plants and resident correspondents in the State of Nevada.

Comins' bill, fixing the State tax levy at $1 on the $100 for all taxable property, including mines and mining claims, and distributing the same to the proper funds, was passed unanimously.

HOUSE.

House met at 11 o'clock. Speaker Allen presiding. Roll called and all reported present except Mr. Paul and Mr. Gillespie.

The journal was read and approved. Under the head of reports the select committee to investigate the charges against Geo. W. Leidy reported. The report exonerated the Assemblyman, stating that nothing of the slightest character had been shown in the testimony to warrant the charge of bribery or any other act unbecoming a member.

Mr. Paul of White Pine, a member of the committee, wired from Reno, that he would not concur in the report, but would ask to submit a minority report. A motion to delay action on the report until Mr. Paul's return was voted down and the report was adopted. The Speaker stated that Mr. Paul would be allowed to file a minority report if desired.

The report of the committee including the evidence covered over 80 pages of typewritten matter.

The committee on State institutions reported Assembly Bill, No. 2, back with amendments, fixing the salary of the physician of Asylum at $1,200 per year and the manager at $1,800, the latter being required to do all clerical work. The amendments were adopted and the bill ordered engrossed.

In the afternoon, Senate Bill No. 97, passed at last session and vetoed by the Governor came up as a special order. Quite a spirited debate ensued. The bill related to the payment of interest on land purchases at the Land Office and the forfeiture of the land in case of non-payment within a certain time. The Governor's objections were based on the theory that if purchasers were given a year's time after interest had become due to pay the same it would cause complications and loss to the State and was not a good system. He also objected to the bill on the grounds that the officers mentioned in the bill viz. Comptroller, etc., did not exist in the State. The bill was finally passed notwithstanding the Governor's veto.

Mr. Gillespie, the transient member of the Storey delegation, answered at roll call at the afternoon session. After the special order had been disposed of, Mr. McMillan of the Storey delegation arose and stated that Mr. Gillespie had returned and was now present and asked that the additional members of the committee be announced by the Speaker so that the committee could proceed to work. Mr. Stroenider moved that further proceedings in connection with the investigation be discontinued and the committee discharged. This brought several members to their feet objecting strenuously to the motion, the claim being made that the committee should go on and exonerate Mr. Gillespie or find him guilty, that a stain rested upon him and it should either be proven or its falsity shown.

Several spicy talks were made on each side of the question and the motion finally prevailed by a vote of 17 to 12, and the Gillespie investigation was squelched. Through all of the proceedings the accused man sat apparently unconcerned as to the action. He offered no excuse for his absence and in fact took no part in the proceedings.

Since the Senatorial fight matters have quieted down wonderfully and many of the people who had gathered from various points as interested parties in the fight have gone.

Dr. Bergstein addressed the Assembly last night on the insane and their needs.

An Old Play in New Dress.

A crowded house witnessed the performance of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" by John F. Stowe company last night, and they were not disappointed in their expectations of a good play, for this time honored production was presented in a manner that recalled the halcyon days of its infancy. The song and dance specialties amply entertained those who had seen the play before.

G. T. Dorsey, as "Uncle Tom" left nothing to be desired in the way he sustained his character. In the part of "Topsy" Miss Inez Wallace proved herself to be a burnt cork artist of no mean ability. She made the audience laugh until tears glistened on many cheeks, but the tears of laughter soon changed to genuine sorrow at the pathetic death scene of little Eva.

The company is sure to meet with success so long as it continues to present the play in a dress of high grade vaudeville.

Protect the Fish.

The Truckee Republican copies a JOURNAL article with the above caption and says:

Such action on the part of our neighbors would be truly commendable and encouraging to those interested in the preservation and propagation of fish in the Truckee river. The greatest drawback met with in keeping the river well stocked has been the poor support received from the people of Nevada. It has been poor encouragement to try to keep the river well stocked when it has been known that fish that go down the river have only the poorest chance to get back again. With proper protection in Nevada, with the right care, the Truckee would be what it should be—the greatest trout stream in the world.

HATS OFF.

A Bill Which Should be Passed by the Legislature.

There is some weak fun being poked at Coryell's bill abating the high-hat nuisance in theaters and other public entertainments where admission is charged. For our part we believe it to be a righteous measure and hope it will become a law.

There is such an ordinance in San Francisco, where it works admirably. At first it was rather unpopular with the ladies, but as the dear creatures became accustomed to it, it gained favor, and now they comply with its provisions, not only without a murmur, but with alacrity. They fix up their hair nicely, the same as for a ball room, and when they take their seats remove their hats with a smile which indicates consciousness of unimpaired attractiveness by such removal.

The Coryell bill is certainly in the interest of Christianity, for the present custom is provocation of more internal profanity than all of the recalcitrant stove pipes and shirt buttons in creation. Who ever sat behind a woman with a flower pot or feather cluster on her head who didn't realize that he was playing hob with his account with the Recording Angel as he was nearly dislocating his neck endeavoring to get an occasional glimpse at the stage? We have been there often and know how it is.

In the interest of the immortal souls of our fellow sufferers, we demand the passage of the bill.

The Next Attraction.

"Yon Yonson" is not only a clever character study, but it is said to be a strong drama. It was the first comedy to deal with dialect and characteristics of the Swede, and it is the best. Its success encouraged imitators and several alleged Swedish comedies have been foisted upon the public. "Yon Yonson" easily leads all plays of its class in popularity and will no doubt be welcomed at the Opera House on next Thursday night. The company is composed of well known actors and actresses, and the title role will be in the hands of Mr. Ben Hendricks. During the progress of the play a number of pleasing specialties will be introduced, including the Lumbermen's Quartette.

The Deadly Grip.

Is again abroad in the land. The air you breathe may be full of its fatal germ! Don't neglect the "Grip" or you will open the door to Pneumonia and Consumption and invite death. Its sure signs are chills with fever, headache, dull heavy pains, mucous discharges from the nose, sore throat and never-let-go cough. Don't waste precious time treating this cough with troches, tablets, or poor, cheap syrups. Cure it at once with Dr. King's New Discovery, the infallible remedy for bronchial troubles. It kills the disease germs, heals the lungs and prevents the dreaded after effects from the malady. Price 50 cent and $1.00. Money back if not cured. A trial bottle free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

An Interesting Case.

All people are interested in a new case that has recently cropped up in Reno, and they have good reason for being so. This case contains many striking features. It is Mr. F. P. Dann's show case on Virginia street, down by the iron bridge. It is very beautiful, his new window display of all that is modern in photography. There one may see large opalotypes small autotypes and lovely porcelains. Just think! Artistic photographs on genuine porcelain. And what do you think of this? He makes photographs on handkerchiefs—silk handkerchiefs. What more appropriate present could be imagined than one of these with your photo on it?

A New Bishop.

The consecration of Rev. William Hall Moreland as Bishop of the Episcopal Church was conducted in great state and with elaborate ceremonies by the Episcopal conference or convention in San Francisco yesterday. Nevada having been transferred from the Utah to the California Episcopal diocese, the new Bishop will take the place of Bishop Leonard of Salt Lake in the direction of church affairs in this State.
